

WHAT IS PARENTING WITH LOVE AND LOGIC?

Parenting with Love and Logic is a course designed to provide families with parenting tools that will not only lessen parental stress, but also teach responsibility in their children. These tools are not replacements for current parenting styles, and should be viewed as another tool in their parenting tool belt.

ABOUT THE FOUNDERS

Jim Fay and Foster Cline, M.D. developed the Love and Logic program and have taught this course to parents and professionals for many years.

Jim Fay has 30 years experience as a teacher and administrator, many years as a professional consultant and public speaker, and is a parent of three children.

Foster Cline, M.D. has experience as a child and adult psychiatrist, lecturer, consultant, and is the father of four children. He and his wife have also parented foster children.

HOW WILL THIS COURSE HELP ME?

The methods taught in this course will aid in decreasing parental stress, childhood arguing, childhood tattling, disrespect, stealing, lying, manipulation, and tantrums.

Parents who have participated in this course have commented:

“There has been a decrease in the yelling and tension in our house.”

“One of the better sessions I have taken over the years....No Problem.”

“I enjoyed the class and I learned a lot even though I have been a foster parent for 7 1/2 years.”

This is a 6 hour class. Participants will have some practice time in class; however, the instructor is available for phone or email consultation after course completion.
